PERSONAL .- Mr. J. R. Ligon and family, of Branchville, left yesterday on a pleasure trip to Florida. We wish em a pleasant tr'p.

AN INVENTION .- Capt. J. A. Minekin, of Bull Swamp, who is now in the Tlst year of his age, has invented an inis machine for pulling up stumps which is pronounced a complete success We are proud to notice this exhibition of the inventive genius of Orangeburg County, and hope that Capt. Minnekin will realize a handsome income from his invention. Let all our farmers try it.

A SMASH LP .- On last Thursday afternoon, while Mr. G. D. Rast was driving along the road from Mr. G. H. Cornelson's residence, his horse took flight at something and ranaway with buggy. Mr. Cornelson's buggy was in front and the two buggies clashed and were badly damaged from the collision, Mr. Rast was painfully bruised, but we are glad to say not seriously hurt.

IMPROVING THE STREETS .- We are are glad to see that our Council has commenced improvements on Russell street leading to the depot. This is a great thoroughfare, and all work done upon it will be a decided public advantage. It very desirable to keep the streets of our town in goon order, and every effort in this direction, within the bounds of reasonable taxation, will be appreciated by our citizens.

THE CONVENTION AND THE FARE. The Southern Baptist Convention which meets at Waco, Texas, on May 9th, will be one of the most important ever held, and It is the wish of the Texans that the South should be largely represented by visitors as well as delegates. Special Pullman cars will leave Atlanta on Saturday, May 5th, in which tickets will be sold for $45.65 for the round trip to continue good until June 1st.

Trial Justice Bowman, acting as coroner, held an inquest on the 18th inst., over the body of Louisa Randolph, an aged colored woman who lived on Mr. David Fersner's plantation. It appeared from the testimony that she was rubbing cotton seed, and was seen thus engaged fifteen minutes before she was disovered dead. When found, she was in sitting position over the basket conning the seed. Death was caused from tural causes.

THE EDISTO PIC-NIC .- The Edisto Rifles have determined to have a pic-nic on the 1st of May at Fairey's place about seven miles below Orangeburg. The Committee of Arrangements con sisting of Messrs. W. J. DeTreville. F. A. Schiffley. Mortimer Dantzler, W. H. Betsell and W. L. Harley, are now engaged on the necessary details. The cars will leave here at o'clock in the morning and return at 8 o'clock at night. This will be pleasant, and a delightful time may be expected.

CRITIC.—Our readers will be glad to note by the article in to-days issue that this valuable contributor to the agricultural department of our paper is still alive, and intends to write again for our columns. We hope that some of our answer his theories, if they can, or, at treated in order to keep up the interest and entiven the discussion. It must be remembered that it is by the contact of ideas that the truth is obtained.

A SAD AND FATAL ACCIDENT. Mr. Mr. Middleton Whetsil, of Cow Castle Township, was kicked by a horse one day last week, from the effects of which he died in a short time He was gearing the animal at the time preparatory to going out in the field to plough when the un ortunate affair occurred. Mr. Whetsill was a staunch and enterprising farmer, and his sad death is deeply deplored. He was about thirty-five years of age when he died, and leaves a family of small children. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.

A NARROW ESCAPE. - On last Saturday, about 1 o'clock, while Mr. Fairey's hack was turning Mr. Lightfoot's corner, a little child of Mr. J. L. Wannamaker's was run over and came very near being killed. It appears that a number of gentlemen were standing at the corner talking, when the little child, not seeing the hack, ran suddenly around them, and, coming in contact with the vehicle, was knocked down by the wheels, and badly bruised on the head. The little fellow was quickly taken up and carried into Dr. Wannamaker's, where, after receiving medical attention, he rallied, and we understand is now doing very well. We hope no serious result will follow.

THE FLORAL FAIR .- The last of the vistitors to the Floral Fair returned on last Monday after spending a week of pleasure in our delightful metropolis. All speak of the floral display as a grand success. The hall presented a perfect sea of flowers which filled the air with an aroma of delicious sweetness. Exquisite taste was displayed in the design spoke well for the fair ones of the old city. It is probable that every part of the State was represented by visitors. State was represented by visitors. We hope that those who went down from Orangeburg will catch inspiration from what they saw, and endeavor to make our approaching Agricultural Fair

A NEW WAY TO PAY AN OLD DEBT A colored man and brother who had sawed some wood for a dentist found a difficulty in collecting his two dollars, but one day a bright thought struck him. Repairing to the dentist's office, he asked what the charge was for extracting teeth. "A dollar each," said the dentist. "Then pull out two for me." But after examining his mouth the dentist old him that all his teeth were sound. Never mind-go ahead." and after having a couple pulled the darkey ex-claimed: "Now we are straight in our accounts, and I guess we'll stop so." For fear we may do our friend Dr. Wolfe, an injustice, we would state that he was not the dentist.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW for May contains nine articles, nearly every one of which discusses some topic or problem at the present moment prominent in the public mind. Senator John T. Morgan writes of "Mexico," and sets forth the considerations of commercial advantage and international comity which are rapidly bringing about a more cordial understanding between that country and the United States. The Rev. Wm. Kirkus, taking occasion from Bishop McQuaid's recent vaticinations regarding the decay of Protestantism, makes a vigorous counter charge upon the papal system in an article entitled. 'The Disintegration of Romanism." In "Emerson and Carlysle," Edwin P. Whipple discourses with all his old-time keenness of psychological insight and perfection of literary forms upon the strangely diverse mental and moral characteristics of those two great thinkers. Prof. Felix Adler offers "A Secular View of Moral Training," arguing that the current skeptical habit of thought demands an independent system of practical ethics, based primarily on observation rather than on revelation. "Communism in America," by Prof. Alexander Winchell, gives very forcible expression to the apprehensions of those pessimistic observers of the tread of events in this country who think that they see n our political and social development all the signs of impending national decay. The other articles are "Affinities of Budhism and Christianity," by the Rev. Dr. James Freeman Clarke; "Woman as an Inventor," by Matilda Joslyn Gage; 'College Endowments.by Rossiter Johnson, and "Extradition," by A. G. Sedgwick. Published at 30 Lafayette Place,

A FATEL ENCOUNTER .- On Monday fternoon, an encounter took place beween Mr. T. Cartmill and Mr. P. P. Johnson white they were going to their homes in the Fork from Orangeburg, in which the latter was killed. It is said that they become involved in an altercation on the road, and words led to blows and a struggle ensued with the result mentioned. As to the origin and progress of the quarrel we have heard severversions, but as the inquest upon the aly was not completed at the time of our going to press we will await further and more reliable information in order to give the full particulars of the unfortunate affair. We understand that Johnson's throat was cut and that his face was also badly gashed. Coroner Heidtman was absent from town when sent for and there was consequently some delay in holding an inquest. The matter cites a great deal of interest on aconcerned are well-known in the comnunity. Such an unhappy occurrance in our neighborhood is deeply to be re-gretted. Cartmill can't be found, and it Still Alive. Editors Times and Democrat: Critic is alive again, and by your request and that of many young farmers, is ready and willing to contribute to your columns. I solicit controversy, and promise any of my brother farmers, who will take me up, to deal very mildly with them, I don't desire to scare them off as I did three years ago. I promise to give the experience of 30 years farming to your readers, if you will induce some one to lock horns with me, as it springs my ideas, and I dont like to write alone. Critic wishes to inform the farmers through your columns, that he intends to make the model crop of the County in 1883. It any one disputes the fact. I want to locate him and see that he does it fairly. Critic don't wish this to be considered as bragging. If any one can beat me, I would be much benefited by learning his plans. Four years ago. Critic was induced to write for your paper, and he did his best to show to farmers the errors of their way. He told them, that this all-cotton business would bring them to bankruptey; that it would make them hewers of wood and drawers of water; that to succeed in farming they must make their farms selfsustaining. Did the farmors heed this advice? The memorable year 1881 tells. Critic's farm stood the storm. He sold coin and fat beaves, and bought no provisions that year. We, tke undersigned, have used the Cox Cotton Planter from one to three years wan success. We have also used and observed the use of several Planters, and can safely say without hesitation, that it is superior to any. It sows the seed dry from the gin house, saving the rolling, and distributes the seed regiarly in a neat, narrow drill, and its movable beam enables one to sow near stumps, tress and at the ead of rows; easily managed on the bed, and by its uniform covering always secures a stand.
